SCRIPT:

NARRATOR: Once upon a time three pigs left their mother's home and went into the world.

PIG 1, 2, AND 3: Good-bye Mother.

MOTHER: Good-bye my little sons.

NARRATOR: The three pigs went different ways. Soon the first little pig met a man who was selling straw.

PIG 1: I need some straw, would you sell it to me?

MAN: Of course. Take it.

NARRATOR: The first little pig paid the man and went to build his house.

Later, the second little Pig met a man who was selling wood.

PIG 2: Please Sir, I need some wood to build my house. Would you sell it to me?

MAN: Yes. Take it.

NARRATOR: The second little Pig paid the man and went on his way to make his wood house.

Later, the third little Pig met a man who was selling bricks.

PIG 3: Excuse me Sir, I need some bricks. Are they for sale?

MAN: Of course. Take them.

NARRATOR: The third little Pig paid the man and went on his way to build his brick house.

When the three little pigs finished their houses, they moved in.

The first little Pig was taking a nap when someone knocked at the door.

He looked through the window and saw a wolf.

WOLF: Little pig, little pig, let me in!

FIG 1: Not by the hair on my chinny-chin-chin.

WOLF: Then I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house down.

NARRATOR: The wolf huffed and puffed and destroyed the house of the first little pig.

The little pig ran all the way to the second little pig's house.

When he got there, the first little Pig told the second little Pig what had happened.

The second little Pig invited him to live together.

After a few days, there was a knock at the door. The two pigs looked out the window and it was the wolf.

WOLF: Little pigs, Little pigs, let me in!

FIG 1 AND 2: Not by the hairs on our chinny-chin-chins.

WOLF: Then I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house down.

NARRATOR: The wolf huffed and puffed and destroyed the house. The pig brothers ran all the way to the third little pig's house.

When they got there, they told the third little pig everything that had happened.

Then, the third little pig invited his two brothers to live with him.

After a few days, there was a knock at the door. The pigs looked out the window and they saw the wolf.

WOLF: Little pigs, Little pigs, let me in!

PIGS 1, 2, AND 3: Not by the hairs on our chinny-chin-chins.

WOLF: Then I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house down.

NARRATOR: The wolf huffed and puffed several times but he couldn't destroy the brick house.

Then, the wolf sat down on a log to think about what to do.

Meanwhile, the three pigs started cooking dinner. They put a large pot of water in the fireplace to cook some soup.

WOLF: I know what to do. I'll get in through the chimney and I will eat those pigs.

NARRATOR: The wolf climbed up to the roof. But he didn't know that there was a pot of boiling water at the bottom of the chimney. Then the three pigs heard a noise.

WOLF: I'm coming to get you pigs!

NARRATOR: The wolf then jumped down the chimney and fell into the pot of boiling water.

WOLF: AAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHH!

NARRATOR: The wolf jumped back up the chimney and ran into the woods. The pigs lived in peace and never saw the wolf again.

Moral: When you do a job, do it good.
